

YAESU VX-5R REVIEW

My darling little FT-50 now sits in the corner, unloved. The VX-5R is a remarkable new radio which totally eclipses it in every way. The editor reluctantly gave it to Neil for review.

FLIGHTWATCH: AREA 51

David Rolls has outdone himself! This month he blows the top secret cover off Area 51 in the USA. This account is a "must read" for all!

MAGELLAN COLORTRAK

We've looked at a few lower-end GPS receivers over the past few years. This one is from the next level up. It even has a colour screen! Here we see it with the Yaesu VX-5R.

CB LEGAL OVERSEAS??

We've accepted for years that it's illegal for CBers to work overseas — but is it? ACBRO has been examining the laws, and they don't seem to mention it anywhere....!

Jammed with action!

56 SPECTRUM FOCUS

Are the amateur bands under commercial pressure? Are they what!! Roger Harrison presents a chilling, not-to-be-missed report...

62 SOLDATENSENDERS

What a crazy word. And what a fascinating story! John Batty scoured the history books for this one...

66 RETRO: PHILIPS FM900

Jason Reilly takes a nostalgic look at one of Australia's real troopers of commercial radio, the FM900 series.

72 KOSOVO, WHERE TO BE

Here's the ultimate frequency guide to the Balkans. We're just glad it's about as far as away as you can get!

80 CHOOSING COAX CABLE

Over the next few issues, we'll be looking very closely at coaxial cable. What to buy, how to choose it, and more. This month we introduce the series with a technical guide by Belden's Steve Lampden.

82 LIPDs — THE ACA REPLY

The ACA has responded to the hot criticism of Australian radio amateurs. Here it is — and our indignant retort!

96 LAST WORD — BEATNIK

What an imagination Mr Kolm has! A satellite spewing forth with lots of E-mailed messages on the amateur bands. Ha ha. What, it's NOT a joke?
